

GOODFOOD Intensive Study Programme

'Embedded food systems in territories'

Münster, Germany, July 2021

Here we announce an interdisciplinary, international summer study programme on 'Embedded Food Systems in Territories', organized and fully funded by the Erasmus+ GOODFOOD project!

An 8-days field stay will take place in July 2021 at Münster University of Applied Sciences (Germany), in collaboration between 6 European universities (MUAS, Germany; ISARA-Lyon, France; UNISG, Italy; WULS, Poland; AUP, Bulgaria; UO, Romania) and will be preceded by an introductory obligatory e-learning module (May-June 2021), filled with team-building group tasks and interactive discussion forums.

The summer programme consists of exciting field trips, workshops and lectures, and will equip the participants in high-quality, interdisciplinary knowledge, in a wide range of topics in the area of embedded food systems, e.g. regional and traditional food, slow food, food sovereignty, locality of the food chains, organic food and farming, food communities. There will be a range of different educational activities, and also giving much opportunity to develop intercultural, international relations with colleagues from all above mentioned universities.

Most important information about the programme:

Time: 18th-25th July 2021 (8 days) + preceding introductory e-learning module (May-June 2021, online)

Location: Münster, Germany*

Number of participants: 4 students from each Partner University (24 students in total)

Prerequisites: BSc (2nd, 3rd or 4th year), MSc or PhD students in food science, agriculture, horticulture, agroecology, environmental sciences and related disciplines, interested in learning more about embedded food systems and concepts, adequate fluency in English, availability for participation in the entire period of activities (e-learning and field trip).

Costs: All costs (travel and subsistence) will be covered by Erasmus+ program within the GOODFOOD project.

Number of ECTS: Students positively completing the summer study programme (attending all compulsory activities and passing final evaluation), together with the preceding e-learning module, will be awarded 4 ECTS.

*Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, we are taking into consideration the need to plan for a possible hybrid summer study programme; if necessary, the summer study programme will be moved on-line. However, we plan and hope for a physical meeting with you all in Münster; – we will keep you posted about further decisions in due course.
